“Heart & Soul ~ Body & Mind” beckons us to revisit the simple and humble beginnings of primitive music and explore the discovery and deliciousness of elemental music in all its wonder.

“Heart & Soul ~ Body & Mind” presents an attractive display and interactive performance with a multitude of primitive wind and percussion instruments. These simple yet exotic instruments have been fashioned from natural materials—bamboo, clay, skin, stone, wood, gourds and shells—virtually unchanged since their discovery and use centuries ago. The striking sounds and soothing melodies they bring forth reflect human creativity and ingenuity at its finest.

And...since music is such a dynamic and joyful experience, light-hearted audience involvement and active participation with instruments is invited and encouraged whenever possible. This presentation also offers opportunities to join together in the oldest form of musical expression—the power of human voices singing together.

“Heart & Soul ~ Body & Mind” music profoundly touches us all as we celebrate the human experience!

Musician and “edutainer” Bill Kehl has passionately pursued the charms of primitive musical instruments for over 35 years, both professionally and for his own personal enjoyment. Bill is especially intrigued by the discovery and use of music in primitive cultures and the delicious diversity of instruments created throughout the course of human history. Bill collects and plays these wonderfully engaging instruments for the last two decades and delights in sharing this gift of music with others of all ages and abilities.

Bill is formerly a member of the very popular acoustic folk-fusion group Northern Light, Bill founded Planetary Productions, Ltd. in 1993 to promote increased environmental awareness and inspire an appreciation of the wonders of creation and the magnificent beauty of the natural world.

From the beginning, music has been a powerful force in creating the richness and fullness of the human experience with heart & soul, body & mind.

Throughout the world, diverse cultures have engaged in creative musical expression to strike the powerful and resonant chords which celebrate humanity’s place and purpose in the cosmos.

To this very day, the magic of music touches our lives, nurtures our being, stimulates our senses and sparks our spirits with passion and joy!

*All things are beautiful under the sky...
Music alone shall live never to die!”*
